

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 40 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C.

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Joann Linn Parns
JOANN LINN PARNS

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM 93-48

RECEIVED DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 40 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 17 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Wanda P. Freeman

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

RECEIVED

MAY 13 7 39 AM '93

VIA AIR MAIL
DEPT. OF JUSTICE

MM 93-48
DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

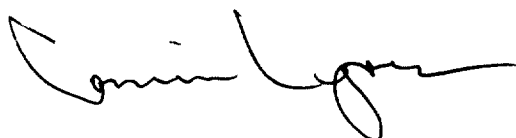

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM 93-48

RECEIVED DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO TAPES
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

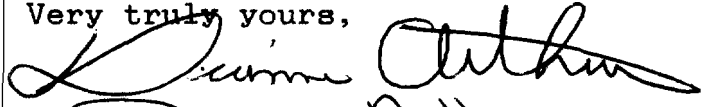

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Dianne Arthur
9395 SW 106th
Miami, FL 33176
754-250-2298

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List A B C D E _____

0

MM 93-48

RECEIVED DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20554

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Lacy Morris

No. of Copies rec'd
List A B C D E

0

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20554

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

X. Maria S. Moore

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 39 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20554

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

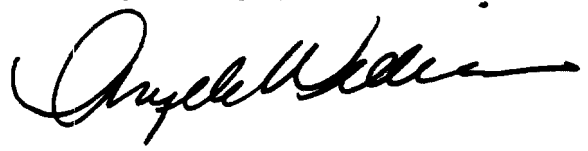

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours, *

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 39 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 19 1993

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20554

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Helen Alspaugh

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List A B C D E _____

0

MM93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Kick Solomon

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List A B C D E _____

MM93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

RECEIVED

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Ed Zampello

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO RECORDS
DIVISION

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Anne Zibush

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 12 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Cyndy Blackwell
9441 S.W. 147 St.
Miami, FL 33176

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List A B C D E _____

0

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VILLAGE OF PAGES
D-113-24

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Q. Salang

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

MM93-48
DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 12 1993

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

A. S. Agnew

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM93-48

RECEIVED DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

RECEIVED

VILEB... DOES

APR 19 1993

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

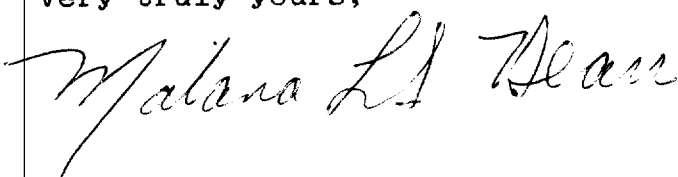

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List ABCDE _____

0

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 40 AM '93

RECEIVED

VIDEO TAPES

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

*Kiff. Rodriguez*No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 40 AM '93

VIDEO SERVICES
DATE 20

MM93-48
DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Maggie Wilson

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E

MM 93-48

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 37 AM '93

VIDEO TAPES

RECEIVED

APR 19 1995

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

No. of Copies rec'd 0

List ABCDE

Linda K Schwab, Legislative Comm Chair, SFPPTA
11208 SW 114 Ln Cir
Miami, FL 33176
(305) 253-8373

MM 93-48
DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

MAY 19 7 37 AM '93

RECEIVED

APR 19 1993

VIDEO RECORDS SECTION
FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Lori Guastella
President
South Florida Preschool PTA

No. of Copies rec'd _____
List A B C D E _____

0

MM93-48

RECEIVED

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

MAY 19 7 38 AM '93

RECEIVED

APR 17 1995

May 12, 1993

Office of the Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

VIDEO SERVICES
DIVISION

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

Dear Sirs:

I am a member of the South Florida Preschool PTA and during January and February, 1993 our group, with the support of the Dade County Council PTA/PTSA, monitored the amount and quality of children's television aired on commercial (as opposed to cable) stations in Miami in connection with the Children's Television Monitoring Act of 1990.

We have been appalled by our discovery that only 2 to 6 hours per week of each of the four (4) station's total 168 hours of broadcast time is devoted to children's broadcasting and even more greatly distressed by the fact that less than 25% of that, or less than 1% of their total air time, is educational or informational children's programming. (Note, the PBS station was not monitored as we felt the quality and quantity of educational children's television exists there without question.)

According to recent articles in The Miami Herald, you have recently withheld station license renewals for lack of educational children's programming and you have issued a Notice of Inquiry for public comment regarding the law; which is the reason for my letter. Our group commends these actions and sincerely urges that the 1990 law continue to be reviewed and at the earliest possible date be made more stringent and specific as to the amounts of educational/informational children's television programming stations are required to air. The law, as it presently stands, is too vague as to its addressing of this issue.

Further, we suggest that guidelines as to what constitutes educational/informational children's television programming be established in order that shows like "Leave It to Beaver" cannot be construed by stations as being educational television simply because they include a "pro-social" theme.

Please make note of my feelings during review, and as soon as possible, I, the South Florida Preschool PTA and parents nationwide urge you to take actions that result in more educational/informational children's programming.

Very truly yours,

Dana King

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List A B C D E